

Artemios Miropoulos

Managing Director, Linkage Greece & Cyprus

Author, Speaker, Developing Leadership
Worldwide

---

Background and Expertise

Artemis worked a total of eight years in the Sales and Marketing departments of Johnson & Johnson Consumer Goods and as National Sales Manager with Beiersdorf in Greece. Since 2008 he is the Managing Partner of Linkage in Greece, the world's fastest growing Leadership and Organizational Development corporation and has been a member of the Faculty of the "Global Institute of Leadership Development" (G.I.L.D.) in the U.S.

In 2015 he published his first book "The Nameless King-15 Stories of Leadership from Ancient Greece" and has been invited in many occasions as a keynote speaker and a workshop facilitator on the power of storytelling.

Artemis Miropoulos joined Response International, a Greek human resources consultancy as a partner in 2000. He led the Learning & Development team and managed the company's SE Europe expansion. Within a 6-year period he established HR Development offices in Romania, Serbia and Bulgaria. At the same period, he also set up local offices for Stanton Chase Executive Search operations and participated in selected executive search assignments and he is a Linkage accredited professional coach. He has worked with senior and middle management teams of numerous organizations on Leadership Development Academies, Culture, Talent, Executive Assessment and Coaching Programs.

Artemis holds a BSc in Mechanical Engineering from the Institute of Technology, Athens, a Diploma in Marketing from the Chartered Institute of Marketing, London and a MSc in HR and Performance Management from the University of Leicester. He lives in Athens with his wife Julie and their three daughters.